

It's About People! By Kevin Cauley

One of the greatest challenges that we face in our lives is connecting with other people. When we think about our purpose, to love God and love our neighbor (Matthew 22:37-39), we realize that this is the great challenge God has given us. We let things get in the way of doing that. We also let things get in the way of others showing love to us. Being about the Lord's business is being about the business of visiting with and learning about other people. The more that we can do this, the better job we will do in fulfilling our purpose in life.

One of the greatest obstacles that we place in our path of connecting with other people is simply failing to talk to them. So often we conceive of prejudices in our mind as to why a person is one way or another. We think, "I can't talk to him/her about this because he/she will never listen." How do we know until we try? Jesus told us that if we have a problem with another that we need to go to him/her and talk (Matthew 18:15). Jesus' way is the best way. More often than not, we will be able to resolve our differences.

Many times the reason we don't want to talk to other people lies within our own heart. We allow others to control us by blaming them instead of doing what we can. This is debilitating. We must take responsibility for our own thoughts, beliefs, decisions, feelings, and actions. This will put us back in control of our own life and go a long way toward helping us be more relaxed and comfortable around other people so that we can fulfill the purpose that God has given us in this life.

ABC's To Successful New Year's Resolutions by Brett Petrillo

The New Year brings a wonderful feeling. It signifies a new beginning and a fresh start. It is an opportunity to make serious changes. It is the closest chance we have to a "reset button." No wonder New Year's Resolutions are so popular. We want to do things better. We want to make better decisions. We want to make life-altering changes. No time is more inspiring to do so than the New Year. Unfortunately, resolutions are easier said than done. Breaking old habits fashioned by years of repetition are not easy changed. We all want this year's resolutions to stick and to become our new way of life. So, here are some ABC's to help make our New Year's Resolutions successful.

Accept Responsibility (Galatians 6:4-5; Matthew 12:36). If we truly want to make changes, then we must accept responsibility for ourselves. Have we developed bad habits? Have sins crept into our lives? Do we just want to make improvements? Then let's accept responsibility for any bad qualities we've formed, face them head on, and commit to make changes!

Believe You Can Change. We've all felt that sense of hopelessness when we failed to break a habit. The deeper the roots of a habit grow, the more hopeless change seems. This is especially true of people who struggle with addiction. The good news is, we can change! We are stronger than we think we are! We can control our minds and bodies (2 Peter 1:5-9; 1 Corinthians 9:26-27). We can escape from sin (1 Corinthians 10:13). Believe in yourself and lean on the Lord for help!

Clarify What Is Important. Sure, losing weight and eating better are great resolutions (they are on my list this year too). These are only so important though. We need to clarify what is truly important for our lives. Paul said it this way, "For physical training is of some value, but godliness has value for all things, holding promise for both the present life and the life to come." Don't let the most essential changes be absent from this year's resolutions. Make sure the eternally important goals are at the top of the list!

Do It With All Your Might (Ecclesiastes 9:10). Make clear and specific resolutions. Have a way to measure success along the way. Have a plan in place. Work hard. Push towards these goals with everything you have. Don't let yourself forget about your resolutions. Write them down and keep them in a place where you will see them several times every day. Do whatever it takes to fulfill your goals!

There is no reason 2023 can't be a life changing year. This can be the year we look back on as the turning point. It's within our grasp. No matter what roadblocks come or challenges we face, we can improve ourselves, we can make our relationships with others better, and most importantly, we can make our spiritual lives better (James 4:8). May this year bring happiness, success, and above all, spiritual growth!
